

103 FLIGHTS HERE
CANCELED FOR
U.S., CANADA AIR
DEFENSE TEST

Fighters and Bombers
Taking Part in Operation Sky Shield—
Open House at Lambert Field.

Commercial airlines canceled 103 flights today because of Operation Sky Shield, a North American Defense Command test of air defenses against manned bombers.

All commercial and private planes in the United States and Canada were ordered grounded from noon to midnight, St. Louis time, to keep the airlines clear for the exercise. The time was selected because it is the least busy period of the week for the airlines.

About 250 bombers will attempt to penetrate continental defenses. About 1800 fighters will oppose them.

Too High to See.

Most of the action will take place at altitudes above 30,000 feet so the public will see little or nothing. Some sonic booms may be heard, authorities said, but no information on times or places was made available.

At Lambert-St. Louis Field, as at most other airports throughout the United States, an open house was scheduled to permit the public to inspect new types of jet airliners. Each of the seven lines serving St. Louis displayed its equipment.

The open house was to continue until 5 p.m. In addition to displays of airplanes and fire-fighting equipment, open house events included three travel fashion shows by Famous-Barr Co., continuous showings of an Air Force movie, music by Singleton Palmer and his Dixieland Six and a showing of airline hostess uniforms modeled by employees of each line operating here.

Entry forms for an essay contest for students up to 16 years old were available in the main concourse of the terminal building, where all events of the open house were scheduled. Parking was free during open house hours.

7 Flights Rescheduled
In addition to the 103 flights canceled, seven flights were rescheduled from late tonight to early tomorrow. Spokesmen for the airlines said the exercise caused them few problems. Thursday and Friday were busier than normal, and reservations for tomorrow indicate a busier-than-usual day.

The lines had notice of the exercise well in advance, so few passengers had to be rescheduled, it was reported. Train and bus companies expected little if any increase in their passenger loads as a result of the exercise.

Sky Shield "attacks" will be manned by bombers, not missiles. The bombers will fly planned courses. Attack planes will be United States and British bombers. United States and Canadian interceptors will defend the continent.

Results of the exercise will not be made public.

Hush Kits for Jets.
NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (UPI)—American Airlines will use a device called a hush kit to reduce noise on its jets using Newark airport. A spokesman for the airline said yesterday. He said the kit, installed on the front of jet engines, would greatly reduce the noise of flights as they approach an airport.

DESEGREGATION
SCHOOLS CITED

Kottmeyer Says System
Prevent Second-Rate
Education.

Racial desegregation of public schools in St. Louis has been accompanied by serious problems, William A. Kottmeyer, deputy superintendent of instruction for the public schools, said yesterday.

"We in the school system are engaged in a fight to prevent second-rate education, and a lot of citizens don't even know this fight is going on," Kottmeyer said.

He spoke in a panel discussion of "The St. Louis Experience in School Integration" at the fifteenth annual meeting of the National Conference of Editorial Writers at Hotel Sheraton-Jefferson.

The chief problem grows out of the extreme congestion in schools in formerly white neighborhoods, Kottmeyer said.

From 850 to 3600.
Schools which for many years had enrollments of about 850 white children now are called on to serve as many as 3600 Negro children living in the same number of houses, Kottmeyer said.

"To solve the overcrowding more than 90 bus loads of children are moved daily to schools in white neighborhoods, sometimes 10 miles away, where there are vacant rooms," he continued.

"It costs $90,000 a year just to pay teachers overtime to supervise the bus operations."

"In addition to the dumping of thousands of Negro children from the vacated Mill Creek area into neighborhoods west of Grand boulevard and north of Delmar boulevard, there is an influx from the South of about 2000 elementary pupils every year."

55 Per Cent Negro.

"Our elementary school population now is 80,000 to 85,000, of which 55 per cent is Negro."

"There is probably more actual segregation in the public schools here today than there was shortly after the integration program started in 1954. The reason is that when a large number of Negroes moves into a neighborhood the white population declines and the ratio of Negroes to whites in the schools changes rapidly to as much as 98 to 2."

"In a sense I suppose we don't really have desegregation."

He said the immigration cycle of 100 years ago is being repeated, but with an important dissimilarity.

"Then, millions of Irish, German, and other immigrants came to St. Louis."

FAA COLLECTS $500
FINE FOR AIRLINER
DRINKING OFFENSE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency has collected a $500 fine from Joseph Newkirk, Argo, Ill., for violating drinking regulations aboard an airplane.

The FAA said that on a United Airlines jet flight from Chicago to Los Angeles on July 8, Newkirk drank from three half-pints of liquor in his possession. By law, the only liquor that may be consumed on a flight is that served by the airline.

The FAA said Newkirk assaulted a stewardess, the plane captain and at least one passenger, and had to be physically restrained.

The FAA said it refrained from imposing the maximum $1000 fine in view of a Los Angeles court ruling sentencing Newkirk to 90 days in jail.

SIGNALS HEARD,
PROBABLY FROM
U.S. SATELLITE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (UPI)—A spokesman at the Government's Goddard space flight center said today that signals from space being detected at various sites around the world probably are coming from a United States Discoverer satellite sent aloft yesterday.

The spokesman said the Discoverer 32 contained a tiny transmitter which sent signals on a frequency of 20,905 megacycles. This is the area where monitoring stations in Japan, Germany and Sweden detected the signals.

On this basis, the spokesman discounted speculation that the signals means that the Russians had orbited a new space vehicle. The Goddard official said he did not know why the transmitting device on the Discoverer was installed. That information, he said, would have to come from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California, site of yesterday's launching.

KENNEDY LIKELY TO CALL FOR U.S.
SUBSIDY OF ARTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (UPI)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg indicated yesterday that the Kennedy Administration will call soon for federal subsidy of the performing arts.

He gave the hint in his closing remarks at the final arbitration hearing in the labor dispute between the Metropolitan Opera Association and its musicians.

"It is not to be expected that the Secretary of Labor should take the time to arbitrate such a dispute," Goldberg said, "if it did not involve larger issues... much larger problems for the country as a whole. The time has come to consider these problems in the executive branch of the government."

Goldberg intervened in the opera dispute at the direction of President Kennedy.

HOFFA - BRIDGES
PACT DENOUNCED
BY MCLELLAN

'Potential Danger of Such Lethal and Monopolistic Power'
Cited by Senator.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (UPI)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa's assistance pact with the West Coast longshoremen's union headed by Harry Bridges drew new criticism today from an old adversary—Senator John L. McClellan (Dem.), Arkansas.

McClellan was acting chairman for part of yesterday's meetings of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee at which Hoffa defended Teamster alliances with Bridges' union and with the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

Although subcommittee members and counsel J. G. Sourwine described the Bridges union and the mine-mill union as Communist dominated, Hoffa said he did not know that to be the case.

Data Given on Loan.
Three officers of the mine-mill union presented data on a $75,000 loan guaranteed by the teamsters early in 1960, but the committee went along with their attorney's insistence that questions steer shy of Communism.

Two of the mine-mill union witnesses—Secretary-Treasurer Irving Dichter and Comptroller Harold Sanderson—are appealing convictions in a conspiracy case involving charges of filing false non-Communist affidavits under the Taft-Hartley act.

Attorney Nathan Witt contended that subcommittee questions should not involve subjects which could prejudice their case.

Hoffa testified that his agreement with Bridges is an oral one, although a draft has been prepared barring raids by one union on the other, promoting joint negotiations and providing for settlement of jurisdictional disputes.

McClellan commented today that the prospect of contracts" expiring simultaneously and concerted negotiations by the two groups "emphasizes the potential danger of such lethal and monopolistic power."

A Possible Action.
Without elaboration, McClellan said the public would be justifiably concerned if "Communist-dominated unions form alliances with non-Communist unions and then proceed to infiltrate them."

Hoffa said his pact with Bridges benefited union members who were in a jurisdictional dispute with the longshoremen about loading certain packaged ship cargoes. Co-operation with the longshoremen had led to the highest warehouse wages in history, he said.

He flared up when Sourwine asked whether his association with Bridges had prompted the Teamsters to hire a suspected Communist to edit a newsletter published by Teamster Local 998 in Honolulu.

"There is no agreement that Hoffa take anybody," he snapped.

The man was identified as Koji Ariyoshi. Sourwine said Ariyoshi was convicted of teaching the violent overthrow of the Government in 1953. The conviction later was set aside. Hoffa said he learned of Ariyoshi's background Thursday and was checking it out now.

U.N. COMMAND
AND KATANGA
SIGN EXTENSION OF CEASE-FIRE

Exchange of Prisoners
Provided—Province
Given Right of Defense Against Central Congo Force.

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, Oct. 14 (AP)—The United Nations command in The Congo announced today the signing of a cease-fire agreement with Katanga. The agreement was described as extending the provisional pact signed last month.

The agreement provides that prisoners taken by both sides in the September fighting will be exchanged next Monday.

It includes what is in effect U. N. recognition of the secessionist province's right to defend itself in the event of attack by forces of the central Congo government which are reported massing on Katanga's borders.

The key point of the agreement states: "The representatives of the United Nations do not consider as a violation of the cease-fire a reply from the Katangan gendarmerie against an attack coming from the exterior."

Signing At Tshombe Home.
The agreement was signed last night by Katanga's President Moise Tshombe and Mahmoud Khari, chief of the United Nations civil operations in the Congo. It took place in the hall of Tshombe's residence on a table draped with the red and green Katanga flag.

First on the 13-point agreement is the provision that both sides will take their prisoners to an Elisabethville airport for exchange at 4 p. m. Monday.

Agreement came just after it was officially confirmed that the Katangan side has moved its 190 United Nations prisoners—the majority of them Irish—from Jadotville to the Katangan principal military stronghold at Kolwezi. They are held there in a building once used as barracks by Moroccan United Nations troops.

Katanga borders with Northern Rhodesia, Tanganyika, Ruanda-Urundi, Angola and the Congo provinces of Kivu and Kasai.

Yielding 4 Strong Points.
The cease-fire agreement, an extension of the Sept. 20 accord which ended 10 days of fighting, provides that the United Nations will hand back to Katanga authorities four strongpoints taken in Elisabethville. They are the Lido swimming pool, the Railwaymen's hospital, an underpass controlling several main road routes, and the central post office.

The agreement stipulates that the first three sites will be neutralized. Agreement on the post office, now a fortress manned by Indian troops, makes no mention of neutralization and the Katangans presumably would be free to move troops there.

The U. N. will have the right to keep technicians there to assure secrecy of the United Nations communications.

The Katangans will be allowed to place a small force back at Elisabethville airport, which will be reopened to normal civil traffic. Police will take over normal airport police control and immigration formalities, but the Indian garrison will remain there.

The United Nations further agreed to hand the Elisabethville radio station back to the Katangans.

WIFE SCOLDS THIEF, ORDERS HIM TO SURRENDER—HE DOES

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 14 (UPI)—James George Collins, a salesman, is in jail today because his wife scolded him for robbing a finance firm of $1600, police said.

Collins told police he was so deeply in debt that he "needed at least $1000 real quick." He said he robbed the firm, then told his wife what he had done.

Collins said his wife scolded him and ordered him to surrender to police. He did.

ALLIED PARLEY IN LONDON
TO SEEK UNIFIED POLICY
AGAINST SOVIET DEMANDSU.S. TELLS REDS TO HALT
BERLIN BORDER SHOOTINGS

Puts It Squarely Up to Soviet Commandant to Stop Firing by East German Police.

BERLIN, Oct. 14 (AP)—The United States command has put it squarely up to the Russians to halt "the reckless" shooting by East German police along the East-West Berlin border.

An American spokesman said Gen. Albert Watson II, chief of United States forces in Berlin, personally protested yesterday to the Soviet commandant, Col. A. I. Solov'yev, at the latter's East Berlin headquarters. The United States and other Western Allies do not deal with the East German Communist puppet regime.

The United States protest came only a few hours after East German border guards peppered the American sector with machine-gun and rifle fire. United States military and West Berlin police held their fire. There were no reports of casualties.

Watson "warned against the consequences of the reckless and illegal conduct" of the East German police, the spokesman said.

SYRIA GETS BACK
U.N. SEAT IT GAVE UP TO JOIN U.A.R.

The New York Herald Tribune Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 14—Syria was formally restored yesterday to the United Nations seat it relinquished in 1958 when it joined Egypt to form the United Arab Republic. This brought to 101 the number of nations in the world organization.

Ambassador Farid Chahlaoui, named by Damascus to head a four-man Syrian delegation, told the General Assembly that his country would follow a policy of non-alignment and would "continue to co-operate with our brothers of the Arab world and work with them for Arab unity on the basis of equality and freedom."

Assembly President Mongi Slim of Tunisia said consultations with numerous delegations had led him to believe that the consensus was to restore Syrian membership, acquired when the U.N. was founded in 1946, rather than to require Syria to apply as a new member. There were no objections.

KENNEDY PLANS
CRUISE AT CAPE
AFTER FOG LIFTS

HYANNISPORT, Mass., Oct. 14 (AP)—President Kennedy looked hopefully today for the fog to lift over Cape Cod and provide fair weather for a cruise on Nantucket Sound.

The presidential yacht Honey Fitz was moored near Mr. Kennedy's vacation home—and that was a sure indication of the afternoon's plans.

The President planned staff conferences, in person and by telephone, today and tomorrow. He was understood to be ready to announce some time this weekend the panel he is organizing to develop new methods of treating and preventing mental retardation.

Otherwise, he looked forward to two days of rest. Fog as thick as New England clam chowder hung over the south shore of Cape Cod when his plane landed late yesterday after a trip from Washington for what may be his last weekend of the season in this resort area.

Somebody Stuck in White House
Wallpaper Deal, Designer Says

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 14 (AP)—Interior decorator Milton Glaser maintained a diplomatic silence today in the storm spawned by his criticism of a $12,500 White House wallpaper project. Glaser declined yesterday to say anything more and referred all questions to the American Institute of Interior Designers in New York.

He is president of the institute, which received a telephone call from the White House Thursday expressing "displeasure" at Glaser's remark that "somebody got stuck" when $12,500 was paid for the antique wallpaper recently installed in the White House diplomatic reception room.

The White House caller, Miss Pamela Turnure, press secretary for Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, complained of "the lack of dignity" of the Richmond Times-Dispatch article that gave Glaser's views.

The wallpaper that caused the fuss was bought for $50 by Peter Hill, a part-time Washington antique dealer, who removed it from the walls of an old Thurmington (Md.) home that was to be demolished. It was Zuber's "Scenic America," printed in 1834.

The National Society of Interior Designers, at the suggestion of Mrs. Kennedy, bought it from Hill for the White House. The price it paid was $12,500. The Government paid nothing.

Glaser told the Times-Dispatch in a recent interview that he could not understand why the old wallpaper was used at the price "when new paper is available from the same blocks." "It doesn't make any sense to me," Glaser said. "But some people like old broken things because they are old and broken down. Maybe Mrs. Kennedy is one of them."

KHRUSHCHEV'S
TALK AWAITED,
MAY GIVE NEW
CLUE ON BERLIN

Western Diplomats Will Be Able Next Week to Make Quick Evaluation of Red Congress
Speech.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Senior diplomats of the United States, Britain, France and Germany will try next week in London to develop some counter-proposals to Russia's demands on the Western powers in connection with the Berlin crisis.

Diplomatic informants said today that exploratory talks with the Soviet government on possible Berlin negotiations have gone about as far as they can until the Western Allies decide their own future policy lines.

Such decisions are expected to cover the future status of West Berlin, the issue of nuclear arms in Germany, the possible development of low-level relations between East and West Germany, German reunification and a whole range of other questions which have arisen in the course of United States-Soviet talks on Berlin.

Foy Kohler for U.S.

Assistant Secretary of State Foy D. Kohler is scheduled to be the chief United States representative in the policy talks, expected to begin in mid-week. He is the State Department's top expert on German affairs and the Berlin dispute with Russia.

Sir Evelyn Shuckburgh, deputy under secretary in the Foreign Office, will represent Britain; Karl Carstens, state secretary in the Foreign Ministry at Bonn, will speak for West Germany, and Jean Lalois, director of European affairs in the French Foreign Office, will speak for France.

The Allied diplomats will be in session at the time of the Communist party meeting in Moscow, which begins Tuesday, and they are expected to be able to make a quick evaluation of any pronouncements on Berlin that Soviet Premier Khrushchev may make to the Moscow meeting.

View of Statement.

High officials in the State Department and the White House attach considerable importance to Khrushchev's expected statement. These officials think it may give new clues to Khrushchev's thinking about the crisis in the light of talks held in this country in recent weeks between Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

United States Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, who has been conferring here with President Kennedy and Rusk, is scheduled to return to Moscow next week. He has instructions to resume exploratory talks with Soviet leaders in the near future, but as a practical matter this probably will not be possible until the Communist sessions are concluded. The meeting is expected to last about 10 days.

United States officials hope that within two or three weeks Thompson will be in position to begin giving the Soviet government some idea of the kind of agreement which the Western powers would consider acceptable for settling the Berlin crisis peacefully. Whether he is able to do so will depend on the outcome of the London talks and possibly a brief Western foreign ministers' meeting which may grow out of them.

Sounding Out Russians.
The exploratory discussions Rusk held with Gromyko were limited almost entirely to sounding out the Russians on what they want and what kind of guarantees with respect to Berlin's future and the operations of its access routes they would be prepared to provide.

Rusk gained the impression that Russia is seriously interested in negotiating and that Khrushchev would be prepared to put into writing guarantees with respect to Berlin's supply lines from the West. It is also understood that Khrushchev recently sent word to the United States government through a neutral diplomat that the guarantees could take the form of

STEVENSON SAYS REDS THREATEN DISASTER TO U.N. IF NOT GIVEN WAY

Replies to Zorin Charge That American Under Secretary Has Seized Control of Secretariat.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—The United States said yesterday the Soviet Union appears to be threatening to wreck the United Nations unless the world organization bows to its demands on revamping the U.N. secretariat.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, chief United States delegate to the United Nations, made the accusation in replying to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin's contention that "if the path of non-agreed decisions is taken, this will cause the organization to collapse."

Stevenson, commenting on the statements made by Zorin at a press conference, said: "I wish Mr. Zorin would not threaten the United Nations with disaster if he does not have his own way."

The United States delegate declared that in negotiations to find a temporary successor to the late Dag Hammarskjold as U.N. secretary general, the United States would "resist the concept of the troika or the ideological division of the world into three blocs."

Charges One-Man Rule. Zorin complained in his 2½-hour talk with reporters that the U.N. secretariat has been taken over by one-man rule. He mentioned no names but made it clear that his reference was to Hammarskjold's American deputy, Andrew W. Cordier.

"The man is acting by right of seizure of power without asking anybody," Zorin said. "... runs the secretariat, not in the interest of the organization as a whole and by no means in a neutral fashion."

A Secretariat spokesman denied that any of the U.N. high command's 29 under secretaries had assumed any added authority after Hammarskjold's death Sept. 18 in a plane crash in Africa.

"There has been no change whatsoever in the responsibilities of each of the under secretaries," the spokesman said. "The only modification in procedure has been a greatly increased consultation among the under secretaries on matters of general interest."

"Meetings of under secretaries have been held without a chairman and a vast amount of daily consultation takes place," he added.

Cordier, a veteran of U.N. service, declined to comment. Zorin repeated the Soviet Union's willingness to agree to a temporary secretary general who he said should pick at least three and up to seven under secretaries of specified nationalities.

The new secretariat chief, he said, should agree beforehand to consult with them and seek their mutual agreement on all major issues. At the same time he denied that the temporary secretary general would be subject to veto by his staff.

Other Developments. Other U.N. developments yesterday:

1. Syria became the 101st member of the United Nations when its four-man delegation was seated without objection in the Assembly. It resumed a membership it gave up in 1958 when it merged with Egypt into the United Arab Republic, recently disrupted by a Syrian coup d'etat.

2. Congo Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko told the Assembly in a policy speech that his country was determined to wipe out the secession of Katanga province as soon as it could.

3. President Ibrahim Abboud of Sudan, in the Assembly, pleaded with the United States, the Soviet Union and France to stop all nuclear tests immediately.

4. Canada and 13 other countries submitted a resolution in the special political committee on the recent sharp increase in fallout. The resolution would have the U.N. scientific committee on the effects of atomic radiation consider "at the earliest possible time whether the facts at its disposal call for the submission of an interim report."

REDS CLAIM AIR SPEED MARK. MOSCOW, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Soviet Union claimed yesterday a world air speed record of 1490.625 miles an hour for a jet plane flying a closed 62-mile course. The Soviet news agency Tass said that at times the speed reached by pilot A. Fedotov in an E-166 jet was 1706.25 miles an hour.

The figures will be submitted to the International Aeronautical Federation, United States Air Force Brig. Gen. Joseph H. Moore set a world record of 1167.35 miles an hour in an F-105 jet at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., on Dec. 12, 1959.

Examining Berlin Escape Route

Nine East Germans who escaped to West Berlin yesterday looking back at site where they drove a truck into a barbed wire entanglement blocking Machnowstrasse. As they fled on foot into the American sector Communist border guards fired about 250 shots at United States and West Berlin policemen who assisted the refugees.

M'MILLAN SAYS RED DEFEAT WILL TAKE LONG TIME

BRIGHTON, England, Oct. 14 (UPI)—Prime Minister Macmillan warned today that the West could lose quickly to Communism but that victory will take a long time.

"We could lose very quickly by a false step," Macmillan said in a speech to a Conservative party rally.

"But to win will mean a long drawn-out effort waiting for the time when Communism itself falls a victim to the spiritual forces which it despises," he said.

Macmillan's appraisal recalled statements by President Kennedy at Chapel Hill, N.C., Thursday when he told Americans that they were "destined to live most if not all" of their lives in uncertainty, challenge and peril fighting the Communist menace to remain free.

Macmillan said the West must bide its time, hold its own positions and give time a chance to do its healing work on the Communist world.

"Then Communist countries may begin to develop into more normal civilizations recovering a moral basis for their life," he said.

Meanwhile we must accept the fact that this bleak ideological struggle may last for another generation, perhaps even longer," Macmillan said.

Discussing a nuclear test ban, the Prime Minister said, "I still hope that the Russians may in their own interests be willing to accept something in the nature of a detente (easing of tension); that they may wish for a pause in this particular turn of the struggle."

"Berlin may provide the first real test of that," he said. Macmillan issued a warning to those who would remain neutral in the East-West struggle.

"All experience shows that you can only stay neutral and safe if there are others prepared to defend you," he said. He warned the neutralist and emerging states against flirting with the Soviet Union.

"Sometimes these countries are able to wrench themselves free," he said. "Sometimes, alas, the process has gone too far. Once the bear's hug has got you, it's apt to be for keeps."

Describing the Soviet Union as the world's greatest imperialist country, Macmillan said Moscow sought to extend its power through "a strange if perverted creed that has a queer attraction both for the most primitive and for the most sophisticated societies."

again last night when two other East Berliners eluded the police and escaped into the French sector. The firing halted after the refugees disappeared down a railroad track well within the Western Zone.

The question of when and if the West would return fire if fired on by East German guards remained unanswered.

Won't Reveal Plans. "We won't disclose under what conditions we will start shooting," the United States Army spokesman said. Nor would he state whether the United States garrison planned to increase its border patrol activity.

A West Berlin police spokesman was equally vague on returning fire. "That depends," he said. "We are trying our best to restrain our (West Berlin) population from demonstrating against the trigger-happy Vopos (East German Police)."

The East German news agency A.D.N. reported today that an East German court in Magdeburg had given prison terms to 11 youths involved in a Sept. 7 breakthrough attempt at Marienberg, the East German checkpoint at the western end of the 110-mile superhighway connecting West Berlin with West Germany.

A truck with East German refugees tried to ram through the barriers there but collided with a West German automobile, killing one occupant and injuring another seriously.

The Magdeburg court sentenced four of the youths to life in prison. The others received terms ranging from three to 15 years.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Oct. 14 (AP)—The X-15 rocket plane reached a record altitude of 217,000 feet, more than 41 miles, on its latest flight Wednesday. The Air Force released the official figures yesterday.

With Maj. Robert White in the cockpit, the X-15 set a speed record of 3647 miles an hour. An instrument check Wednesday indicated the X-15 had reached 215,000 feet, but the figure was increased 2000 after further checking.

AMERICAN GETS DEATH IN KILLING OF TWO GREEKS

PIRAEUS, Greece, Oct. 14 (AP)—Roger Ranney, of Chanute, Kan., was convicted today of the willful murder of two Greek seamen and was sentenced to die before a firing squad.

The defense has the right to appeal in 20 days. President Judge John Psilopoulos actually sentenced Ranney "to die twice." He was sentenced to death for the killing of each of the two hired Greek sailors, George Mandaleros and Dimitrios Efstahyos, with whom he set out in a rented launch last November on a cruise of the Aegean islands.

The Greek sailors have been missing since. The rented motor launch was found scuttled. Neither of the sailors' bodies have been found.

In reaching their decision, the judges swept aside a plea by the jury of seven men and three women of clemency for the 26-year-old American, who said he came to Greece as a tourist last year.

Ranney insisted he was not guilty. He said he left the seamen alive and well on one of the Greek islands when he found he had been tricked into smuggling narcotics. He said he thought he was taking aboard a load of contraband watches.

Ranney, 26 years old, was also found guilty on two lesser charges—scuttling a yacht and a motorless boat. He was found not guilty of forging ship's documents. A charge of carrying and using firearms was dropped. Ranney said in his testimony that the yacht had been wrecked by a storm.

U.S. PLANE DEAL WITH TITO STIRS SHARP CRITICISM

Some Members of Congress Attack Sale of 135 Jet Fighters to Red Yugoslavia.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—The United States sale of 135 Sabre jet fighters to Communist Yugoslavia has run into sharp criticism from some members of Congress.

The sale, a package deal in which eight Yugoslav air force men are being trained at Perrin Air Force Base, Tex., was announced yesterday by the State Department.

Two Senators urged that the deal be cancelled, and Representative Otto Passman, (Dem., Louisiana), said the transaction "borders on treason."

The reason for the transaction, the State Department said, was to help Yugoslavia stay free of Soviet domination.

The sale of the United States surplus all-weather F-86D interceptor planes is by far the largest United States arms transaction with Belgrade since Yugoslavia's President Josip (Tito) Broz halted American arms aid to his country in 1957.

The State Department said Yugoslavia paid cash for the planes and the training.

'Phony as $3 Bill.'

In Monroe, La., Passman termed the transaction "as phony as a $3 bill," and said: "If there was a sale at all, which I doubt, the planes cost the Yugoslav government only a small fraction of the planes' cost and the Communist government used money given to them by this country to pay for the aircraft. . . . It borders on treason and makes me sick to see our country do something like this."

Senator John Tower (Rep., Texas), said in Louisville, Ky., that the Yugoslav airmen should be shipped home and a total embargo placed on aid to Yugoslavia. He said there has never been any doubt in his mind that Tito is in league with the Soviet Union to further world socialism.

In Seattle, Wash., Senator Henry M. Jackson (Dem.), Washington, said the Kennedy Administration should consider canceling the arrangement because of views expressed by Tito in the recent meeting of neutrals in Belgrade. However, officials here said they believe the sale, delivery and payment have been completed.

$10,000 a Plane. Officials said the deal is costing Yugoslavia $1,600,000. Each plane is being sold for $10,000, they said. The Sabre jets, declared surplus last year, originally cost $343,000 each.

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said the decision to send the aircraft to Yugoslavia was made in mid-January, shortly before President Kennedy succeeded Dwight D. Eisenhower in the White House. Government sources said the Kennedy Administration could have stopped the delivery, which took place in ensuing months, but instead stood by the Eisenhower Administration's reasons for approving the deal.

White said that since Tito broke with the Soviet bloc in 1948, the United States has "supported the ability and determination of Yugoslavia to maintain its independence."

Yugoslavia Not Invited to Observe Soviet Red Congress. BELGRADE, Oct. 14 (AP)—Yugoslavia has not been invited to send observers to the twenty-second congress of the Soviet Communist party opening in Moscow Tuesday, government spokesman Drago Kunc said yesterday.

Kunc declined to comment on the congress, but told reporters the Yugoslav government will follow closely the works of the congress when it deals with Yugoslavia.

In the draft program of the congress, Yugoslavia's ruling Communist party was attacked as revisionist. The official organ of the Yugoslav Communist party recently attacked the Soviet draft program and said that it recalled the anti-Yugoslav spirit of the Stalinist era.

Yugoslavia Says It Has Canceled Visit by Humphrey. BELGRADE, Oct. 14—A scheduled visit to Belgrade by Senator Hubert Humphrey has been canceled in the wake of a remark by the Minnesota Democrat listing Yugoslavia among countries not free.

The move was disclosed by a Yugoslav government spokesman who said: "After the unusual statement about Yugoslavia by Senator Humphrey, a statement not in harmony with relations existing up till now between the two countries, meetings between him and Yugoslav statesmen which were planned could not take place and the visit was dropped."

The United States embassy in Belgrade had no comment on the announcement. In Paris Humphrey said he had no knowledge of any cancellation of his scheduled visit to Yugoslavia.

Russia Turns Down U.S. Request For Wider Circulation of Views

State Department Balked in Effort to Get Stand on Germany Before Soviet People.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Soviet government has rejected a request for wider dissemination inside Russia of official United States views on the German situation.

State Department press officer Lincoln White released the texts of the American request and the Soviet refusal last night. He said, however, that the United States Government will not, at this time, attempt to close a New York firm which circulates in America the official Soviet stand on various issues.

White released copies of a Sept. 22 note to the Kremlin asking for facilities in Russia to match those of Crosscurrents Press of New York City.

Registered with the Department of Justice as an agent of the official Soviet publications exporting agency, Crosscurrents is circulating a 157-page booklet on the Berlin question.

The booklet is priced at $1 but has been sent free of charge to United States Congressmen and others. The current issue includes a letter from Soviet Premier Khrushchev "to American readers" plus texts of Khrushchev speeches and memoranda on the German question.

Department of Justice figures show Crosscurrents Press has received $21,755 from the Soviet Embassy here since Dec. 27, 1960.

In reply to the American request, the Soviet note of Oct. 12 said Russia favors "the broad exchange of truthful information" to develop friendly relations but opposes "false information" which incites "enmity among people."

The Soviet note, which White termed "in essence" a denial of the United States request, stated further that Russian public opinion is "widely informed on all questions of international life."

It said all basic United States documents are published in the Russian press and contended that Soviet statements sometimes are distorted by the American press.

CANADA, INDIA PROTEST AGAINST CAIRO BEATINGS

Military Attache of Each Nation Attacked at Outset of Syrian Revolt.

CAIRO, Oct. 14 (AP)—The embassies of Canada and India confirmed yesterday that a military attache of each nation was beaten by a group of Egyptians here at the outset of the Syrian revolt against the United Arab Republic.

Neither embassy would comment beyond confirming that the incident had taken place and a protest had been made to Egyptian authorities. It was understood Egyptian officials have extended regrets and promised to investigate.

Egyptian authorities have declined to comment publicly and there has been no mention of the incident in the Cairo press.

Informed sources said the two attaches were taken from an embassy automobile with diplomatic license plates and set upon following an incident with an Egyptian army convoy. The affair started about 9 p.m. Sept. 28, the day the Syrian revolt began against President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

The two officers had been watching the passage of the military convoy. They were taken to a police station after their car was involved in a minor accident with a truck in the convoy.

They were attacked by a crowd as they left the station. Police rescued them and took them back inside.

The names of the attaches involved were not divulged. It was understood the Canadian was beaten on the face while the Indian was bruised and suffered leg injuries.

The sources said the two officers were held for some time at the police station before being allowed to get in touch with their embassies.

Overrun with Rabbits

Before damming the Conservation Commission for setting a squirrel and rabbit season at the Busch Area in St. Charles county, it might be well to consider that the area was established through the donation of land to the commission to be used primarily as a wildlife and demonstration area.

Its chief source of income is from fees for fishing in its 37 lakes. These fees support not only the fishing opportunities, but also lap over to take care of considerable of the deficit incurred in managing the 7000 acres for other activities.

One of the major activities is dog training and field trials. However, fees from this activity do not now and never have made it self-supporting. In the meantime the commission has been looking around for other activities suited to the area. So the squirrel season was inaugurated, and now a rabbit season.

A great deal of study was given these activities by trained wildlife experts before they gave the go-ahead. Now we hear a great loud clamor by certain interests against these activities. They employ the sob-sister technique, together with the old, time-worn clichés of "danger to nearby persons," etc., ad nauseam. Tish-tush and pure bad-loney!

The chief purpose behind this smoke screen is to preserve the area for one kind of interest, supported by the fishermen and license-purchasers at large. However, for my money, and I am also a license holder and a fisherman who patronizes the area, I believe that the commission has been too backward in developing the Busch area for the greatest possible use. They've a couple hundred acres of water that draws most of the people, and most of the balance of the acreage is lying idle.

The place is overrun with rabbits. Perhaps you remember back about 30 years ago when the rabbit population mushroomed all over the state. Then came tularemia which not only killed most of the rabbits, but a lot of hunters as well. I for one would not like to see that repeated. It seems that the commission feels the same way. I applaud its action.

I say let the commission manage the area and open it up. I, for one, would like to see pistol, small-bore rifle and trap shooting ranges established. There is a great need for these services and the Busch area is a perfect place.

Far from a Bus Stop

The Art Museum is beautifully situated in Forest Park but how can one get there without private transportation? I once took three buses, the third depositing me three long blocks from the museum, necessitating the risk of walking alone in the park. There must be many others without cars who are thus deprived of the many fine activities provided by the museum.

Frustrated Art Lover

For the Forest Service

May I point out a few misconceptions in your editorial of Oct. 3 on the Ozark rivers? Who is going to build honky-tonks? In case you hadn't heard, the Monument land is seldom for sale.

You say farming and cutting timber are not compatible with preservation. Who do you think has been preserving this area all these years? The farmers and the woodsmen. Do you think 800,000 tourists with their beer cans can preserve it better?

You say people should come to an agreement on a plan to conserve the rivers. They have done so—the Forest Service plan suits them better.

Who is pushing this park plan? People with an axe to grind: Park Service officials and our so-called public servants.

Into Khrushchev's Arms

Hate and not justice motivated the Versailles Treaty which resulted in a system of organized hate under Hitler. But apparently the German haters are still quite prevalent in our society, and if they have their way they will once again drive Germany into the hands of a fiend, this time in the person of Khrushchev, who won't hesitate to arm them to serve his ambitions.

Most of the harm brought on mankind in this century has been due to ruthless totalitarianism and the hypocrisy of the democracies. If we practiced what we preached we wouldn't be in our present dilemma.

A Straight Road?

With the higher gas tax which started Friday as a reminder, a recent editorial discussed the devious path of the proposed constitutional amendment toward Missouri road improvement, which will be voted on next March. The other side of this issue is that a straight line is not always the shortest route to political achievement.

The rise in the gasoline tax from 3 to 5 cents a gallon is for six months only. A March 6 election will confront voters with the question of making the increase permanent but with a new wrinkle: only half the 2-cent rise would go to state highways, and the other half would go to cities and counties. There is something for everybody here. If that is the amendment's weakness, it also explains its remarkable political support among hitherto conflicting road interests.

While state highways would receive only an additional $16,000,000 yearly or half what the Governor and Highway Commission once thought they needed, that is but part of the story. The state system would get the lion's share—80 per cent—of the 5-cent tax. The total income would be about 54 millions. Because of massive federal aid and other receipts, the Highway Department now spends about 160 millions a year on roads. Though the figure falls short of what independent experts believe adequate, it still is more than twice what was spent on roads only eight years ago, and the amendment would increase the spending.

For towns and cities of more than 200 population, the amendment would add 4 millions annually to the 8 millions now obtained through state aid and city gas taxes. Of these 660 municipalities, 120 would have to surrender present city gas levies, but no city would receive less revenue than it now earns, and most would get more.

Elimination of city gas taxes would result in a uniform tax level throughout the state. This in turn should erase some pricing problems for competing oil dealers; it should prevent losses of business from cities with local levies to areas without them and, in some instances, a loss from Missouri to adjacent states.

County road aid, which was the Legislature's main interest, would rise from 2.6 millions to 4 millions under the amendment. While this may be more than local roads merit from state funds, the figure is not out of line with their traffic burden. County roads are part of a rural network that carries only 7 per cent of the state traffic, but the counties' share of the 5-cent gas tax would be only 5 per cent. Moreover, the amendment would end the King road law assistance taken from general revenue, thereby making the present 2.6 millions available for other purposes such as welfare or education.

The Legislature was not totally unaware of the counties' relatively inefficient management of road building. State Highway Commission approval will be required for state-aided rural projects.

One charge cannot fairly be made against the amendment, and that is that a 5-cent tax would be too high. Every other state has at least a 5-cent levy, and Missouri's per capita road expenditures have been consistently below those of four fifths of the states. Missouri can afford to pay for better roads.

Urban voters especially may object to making more state aid for major highways contingent on using their taxes for lightly-traveled country roads. But this objection will run into a carefully-contrived roadblock, for if the amendment is defeated, there will be no extra money for any roads, streets or highways. The state system will be left with the ridiculously inadequate 3-cent gas tax and a deferred hope that the rural-dominated Legislature may become less insistent on attaching conditions to state highway improvement.

Political practicality is perhaps the strongest argument for the proposed amendment. While it represents a questionable gear for road progress, the immediate alternative is a speed too low for an age of turnpikes. The choice can be deliberated for some months, but it will be made by springtime.

Senator on Duty in Pentagon

Senator Thurmond, who believes that the Pentagon should not censor speeches of military officers, is now in the Pentagon as an Army Reserve Major General for two weeks of active duty. A month ago Secretary McNamara was closely questioned by Senator Thurmond on charges that Mr. McNamara was muzzling officers. The only men likely to issue orders or give assignments to Maj.-Gen. Thurmond during the next few days are Mr. McNamara, Secretary of the Army Elvis Stahr and Army Chief of Staff George Decker. Referring to Secretary McNamara, Maj.-Gen. Thurmond said, "I don't know of any reason I would want to see him." Many a junior officer assigned to a new post has had that feeling but few have expressed it publicly.

Dream Lover

A gaudily-colored statuary group six feet high, starring Rodolfo Guglielmi as "The Sheik," newly towers above the central piazza of the unprosperous farm town of Castellana in the Italian bootheel. It was unveiled in ceremonies at which the Under Secretary of Tourism and Spectacles announced the establishment of a prize to be awarded to Italian actors making good abroad. Though the Roman newspaper Il Messaggero snorted that the money could have been better spent to patch leaky roofs and shoe barefoot children, Luigi Gheno's ceramic sounds like on the whole a fitting postscript to the career of Castellana's most illustrious son, whom an adoring world knew as Rudolph Valentino.

Whether Valentino's charm could survive the modern context is debatable. It was perfectly adapted to a day when romance was a very serious business indeed. The hero of the Valentinian era struck epic postures, his chest heaving, while his innamorata slunk and sighed, and nobody thought there was anything the least bit ridiculous about it. Today the question might arise whether the histrionics were not being laid on a trifle thick. Our audiences are less innocent than those of the day of sheiks and sirens.

But charm Rodolfo Guglielmi certainly possessed, and oddly enough it was compounded of some such contradictions as were represented by the statue and its surroundings. There was something about him of the barefoot boy as well as of the mysterious and iridescent lover—and the blending of those elements was what made so many wives wonder whether they could not have done better if they had looked around longer. There was never any other matinee idol quite like Valentino, and probably there will never be again. But visitors to a small Italian city near Taranto may still, if they like, be reassured that despite the rigors of a pragmatic age, Romance yet stands tall and many-hued.

Mr. McCloy Retires

John J. McCloy has ended his service as President Kennedy's principal disarmament adviser on a note of disappointment mingled with hope. The disappointment arises from the Soviet Union's refusal to accept a treaty banning nuclear tests under international control; the hope, from what Mr. McCloy termed an "impressive" agreement with the Soviets on the basic principles of future disarmament negotiation.

It is worth recalling what the leading principles agreed upon are. They include a commitment to "general and complete" disarmament accompanied by strengthened peace-keeping machinery under the U.N., including establishment of a U.N. peace force; elimination of nuclear stockpiles and all means of delivery; balanced and progressive achievement of the goals by stages; international inspection and control to be established by stages proportionate to the degree of disarmament achieved.

Nobody needs to be told how long a stretch it can be from the enunciation of principles to the practical embodiment of them in a treaty. The Russians have stopped disarmament progress dead by their resumption of nuclear testing in the atmosphere. Nevertheless, the world's need for an end to the arms race remains as urgent as it ever was, and agreement on principles is a necessary beginning. In a more favorable atmosphere, the beginning can be made use of.

So Mr. McCloy, as he turns over his job to William C. Foster, director of the new disarmament agency, can look upon his nine months' service in the Administration as useful indeed. It is Mr. Foster's responsibility to build upon the foundation Mr. McCloy has left him. We hope he will be active, imaginative, daring and tireless. It is easy enough to discern the obstacles to disarmament. What the new agency must do, by research and planning and far-ranging initiative, is to uncover the opportunities for it.

Now the Aldermen's Job

The ouster attempt against St. Louis Alderman Alfred I. Harris having failed in the courts, a new effort toward that end will have to be made in the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Harris lives in Ladue, not in the Twenty-second Ward he purports to represent. He is in open violation of the City Charter which says that if an Alderman "shall at any time not be a resident of (his) ward he shall thereby forfeit his office."

The court held that the Aldermen are the sole judges of the qualifications of their colleagues and that it could not take over that function. That places responsibility for the next move directly on Aldermanic President Cervantes and the Democratic leadership. Mr. Harris is a Democrat. The Charter needs to be upheld, the principle of representation by wards protected. The Harris case should be the first order of business the next time the Aldermen get together.

A Haven From Hoffa

The invitation of the AFL-CIO Executive Council to offer charters to dissident Teamsters locals is a constructive step by labor to break the power of James R. Hoffa and the corruption-riddled International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

The AFL-CIO expelled the Teamsters in 1957 in hopes that ostracism would lead to an internal house cleaning. This has not happened, and Mr. Hoffa was returned firmly to the driver's seat in Miami Beach with a 50 per cent salary boost and a $12,000,000 annual dues increase for his war chest.

Because of the failure of the AFL-CIO to bring about reform of the Teamsters, some labor leaders have urged that the Teamsters be readmitted to the labor federation in the interests of peace and harmony. This would mean that public distrust aroused by Teamster corruption and Mr. Hoffa's arrogance would be turned upon all of organized labor. The AFL-CIO may overrule its council in convention, and vote to re-admit the Teamsters, but it would be ill-advised to do so, if only for the sake of its own reputation.

Mr. Hoffa and the Teamsters so far have successfully resisted reform efforts by labor, Congress, and the courts, but reports that 100 of 900 Teamsters locals have applied to the AFL-CIO for charters are a sign that a major revolt may be brewing.

Raiding by the AFL-CIO and open union warfare are not the ways for labor to clean its own house and George Meany's refusal to aid locals until they have severed ties with Mr. Hoffa's union is commendable. Creation of an international trucking union within the AFL-CIO to compete with the Teamsters should wait until after a sizeable number of locals have joined.

After Leaving the Shelter?

Civil defense has come to the fore in recent weeks with such emphasis on how a basement or other simple type of shelter, adequately stocked, might enable a family to survive the blast, heat and radiation from a nuclear bomb. But little is said about what might greet survivors when they emerged days later. Now one answer has been given by an authority and it is an unpleasant one.

Dr. John Wolfe, chief of the environmental sciences branch and director of biology and medicine at the Atomic Energy Commission, says it is "awesome to contemplate" just where emerging survivors would go and what they would do. From six weeks to two months after the explosion, rains would add another 36 to 40 per cent of fallout to the 50 per cent already released. Even if there were a semblance of civil order, a series of nuclear strikes might have dissipated the means of living—heat, light, water, food. Survivors who emerged into one of these "vast areas" that would be useless to man, could only hope that some relief and rescue group would reach them in time.

Judging from Dr. Wolfe's words, shelter against a major nuclear attack is of questionable value. The real need is for a shield against the folly of nuclear war.

Big Agenda in Illinois

Gov. Kerner Gave Legislators Too Diverse and Long a List, Editorial Says

From The Decatur Herald

The text of Gov. Otto Kerner's official call for a special session of the Illinois General Assembly confirms the outline he gave in a press conference. No. 1 purpose of the call for a special session is: To enact laws and to amend or repeal existing laws appropriating the State of Illinois into congressional districts. Listed second by the Governor is a request for creation of a commission, and the appropriation of necessary funds, for the study of state revenue and fiscal problems.

At one time the Governor had planned to ask this special session to write a new Revenue Article for the State Constitution, one which would give the Legislature authority to bring up to date the state's tax system. Later he decided to leave that assignment to a second special session to be convened early next year.

The dozen other subjects on the call include routine government housekeeping bills, political trading material and some fairly important legislative proposals.

Wrong River?

Grover Brinkman in The Christian Science Monitor

Anyone who has ever paged through a tourist guide, or checked a map of the United States, knows that St. Louis is on the Mississippi river. But there is a lone contender to this universal opinion. And that is the United States Geological Survey, who says, bluntly, "Taint so!"

St. Louis has never been on the Mississippi river, the USGS contends, and the survey people have data to prove it—the protests of natives and tourists notwithstanding.

St. Louis is on the Missouri river, at least technically. The Mississippi and the Missouri rivers merge into one muddy stream, 16 miles north of St. Louis. But according to the USGS, their waters definitely do not mix until after they pass St. Louis. In fact, complete merging of the currents of the two rivers is not accomplished for another 20 miles downstream from the St. Louis levee.

Old river men claim that they can actually tell when their boats are in the Mississippi current, or the "Missouri mudstream," as they approach St. Louis from down-river.

For some unexplained reason, the water of the Missouri does not merge with the Mississippi's current as the two streams join, above St. Louis. The heavier Missouri stream forces the Mississippi water toward the Illinois side, and the two proceed southward, side by side, for more than 35 miles before a complete merger is made.

How has this been ascertained? The Corps of United States Army Engineers was aware of this strange fact for years. Aerial photographs definitely proves it, as also do water samples lifted from the two segments of the river. The Missouri stream carries much more silt than does the Mississippi. When photographed, it is clearly discernible. Color photographs from high altitudes make it even more pronounced.

tax on the sale of commodities. The two tax rates should be the same, and the state could use the increased revenue.

The need for more revenue is cited as a reason for asking an increase in the corporation franchise tax, now an unusually low impost, even though Illinois corporations are required to pay other, compensating state tax levies.

Many of these subjects on the special session call failed in the regular session when only a majority vote in both houses was necessary for passage, except in the case of constitutional amendments. In the special session a two-thirds majority is required for enactment of all legislation.

The mood of the legislators, recalled to Springfield on Oct. 10 for a special session that could last for weeks, is reported to be unenthusiastic at best. The length and diversity of the agenda submitted by the Governor will not improve the legislators' dispositions.

Gov. Kerner has called the session, but on the basis of his performance thus far he cannot be expected to call the turn of events. The price of congressional reapportionment could be political deals that will reverberate until November of next year.

ARMS RACE IN SPACE

The Montreal Star

If we cannot get some agreement for arms limitation on earth itself, human wisdom will certainly not be competent to devise any system for interplanetary control. It may sound absurd to envisage an arms race in space, but it is in actual fact just round the next corner. Absurdities are not alien to the human spirit. They are inherent in it.

Between Book Ends Protecting National Safety

NO TRANSFER: AN AMERICAN SECURITY PRINCIPLE, by John A. Logan Jr. (Yale, 430 pgs., $6.75.)

Dr. John A. Logan Jr., formerly professor of history at Yale University, has turned his attention to the development by the United States of its basic security principles from the foundation of the republic. With the trained eye of a historian he identifies the "no transfer" principle as paramount among these security policies. From independence to the present, the United States has opposed the transfer of American colonies from one non-American power to another when this presented any possible threat to the United States; particularly the transfer of American possessions from a weaker to a stronger power.

The villain in this diplomatic drama has always been that particular non-American power which seemed most menacing at the time. In the early days of our republic this of course meant England, later it was France under Napoleon, in World War II Hitler's Germany was the villain, and now the Soviet Union plays the role.

The United States, consequently, has at times had to assume the role of the defender of the weaker non-American power whose American possessions were threatened, even though this made us defend Bourbon Spain against republican France. The vigor with which the United States has applied the "no transfer" policy has always been in direct proportion to the degree of threat to United States security of any proposed or anticipated transfer. This explains United States sensitivity to transfer of Caribbean possessions and our perpetual concern about Cuba.

This book is rewarding reading for all those who are distressed about the present precarious position of the United States. Here anxious readers can see how many statesmen of previous generations have relied on force, diplomacy, good luck and international maneuvering to protect the national safety.

Although this book is of somewhat uneven quality, it presents many wise judgments and shrewd insights.

THE EARLY CHRISTIANS, by Michel Gough. (Praeger, 268 pgs., $6.50.)

There are eight chapters to this book; the first is a straightforward historical summary of the political, artistic and theological background to early Christian art. The next two chapters deal with Christian architecture and art before Constantine Rome on the Tiber and Dura on the Euphrates preponderate. Chapter four is a further historical survey, Constantine to Justinian; then we have two original and important chapters on the Christian basilica and the Christian centralized and domed architecture.

The last two chapters are the author's bow to the art of the Christian Roman Empire and to Sancta Sophia. One finds it a mystery why so many seem to praise the original architects of this building, which after a few years collapsed and had to be rebuilt.

In a book of this kind the illustrations are important; the ones chosen here are very good. Of course in a rapid survey there are bound to be omissions, but we should be grateful for those sections of early Christian art here described.

MISSOURI PUBLISHERS TELL KENNEDY OF PUBLIC SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (UPI)—A group of 21 Missouri publishers and editors, some Republicans and some Democrats, told President Kennedy yesterday that the people of their area trusted him and supported him in whatever move he makes in world affairs.

Mr. Kennedy exchanged views on the world situation with the Missourians at a White House lunch he held for them today.

Most of the publishers were reluctant to make any comments on their talk with the President, other than to say there was general discussion of world, state and national problems during the two-hour meeting.

Gov. Dalton Blames Legislators In Conflict of Interest Cases

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 14 (AP)—Gov. John M. Dalton has blamed the Legislature and possibly some state employees and lobbyists for conflict of interest troubles in state government.

The Governor said last night it appeared the Judicial Department of the state government appeared to be relatively free of conflict of interest.

He made the remarks in a speech before the Missouri Political Science Association. "Our problem is least acute in the judicial branch," the Governor said, "and being a lawyer I am very happy about that. It may well be that the present statutes and the canons of ethics are adequate to take care of the situation."

Many Officials Can Act. Of government employees, Dalton said that aside from the top men there were many who also could decide whether a situation should be looked into. He said many officials served on a part-time basis and had the problem of deciding whether to do what was in the general public interest or in the interest of their private employers or that of their friends.

Much of that problem could be solved with administrative changes, he said.

The lobbyists, Dalton said, represent special interests, and "do favors, give gifts, provide entertainment and do almost anything else that they think will help them influence the vote of legislators, the decisions or actions of executive and administrative officials or whatever state action in which they may be interested. In doing so, they habitually make use of conflicts of interest to achieve the desired influence."

Special Target. But lawyer-legislators appeared to be his special target. "More than one legislative member stated last spring that he could not support the bill to crack down on conflict of interest because it would put him out of the law business," Dalton said.

"It seems to me that the lawyer-legislators who find that his practice consists largely of representing people against the state or in attempting to influence state action in their behalf, should realize that he is retaining primarily because of his position as a legislator and the influence such position is supposed to give him, and not because of his abilities as a lawyer."

"It may be inconvenient for some lawyer-legislators to give up such practice, but the best interests of the state demand it. In Missouri, at least, the legislators have recently raised their own salary to more than make up for the losses of the few who may be affected by a clean-up of this situation."

The legislators considered Dalton's proposed conflict of interest bill last spring and then discarded it. They set up instead a joint House-Senate committee to consider the whole problem between the 1961 and 1963 Legislatures.

News of the Churches in the St. Louis Area

ANGLICAN CANON TO PREACH HERE

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

An Anglican clergyman who holds religious services in the business places and homes of his parishioners will spend next week and the following weekend in St. Louis. Canon Ernest Southcott will fill several preaching engagements here.

Canadian-born Canon Southcott has been canon and vicar of St. Wilfred's Halton, Leeds, for 17 years. He is provost-elect (dean) of Southwark Cathedral, London.

Canon Southcott is described by his American friends as "tall, gaunt and explosive, one of the most controversial figures in world Anglicanism." He has explained his unorthodox tactics this way: "Since I am convinced that the Christian church is alienated from most of the world, I must take the church out into the world."

Every day except on Sundays, Canon Southcott holds "House Church" in homes of his parishioners. It may be early Communion at 6 a.m. in the back room of a gasoline station, or a confirmed couple, or a confirmation class at 7 p.m. The kitchen or living room table serves as altar and pulpit. The canon points out that his practice is much like the house churches of the First Century, when the small bands of Christians, having no houses of worship, met in private homes.

Canon Southcott will be the guest of Bishop George L. Cadigan from Monday through the following Monday. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, he will lead the annual diocesan clergy conference at Thompson House. Thursday at 6 p.m. he will conduct a youth rally at Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Webster Groves.

Canon Southcott will lead a "Mission for Men" at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Clayton and Murdoch avenues, next weekend. He will speak Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m., and Sunday, Oct. 22, at 7 a.m. Communion breakfast. Laymen of other churches are welcome to attend all these services, and they may make reservations for the Communion breakfast by calling Sterling 1-7606, VERNON 2-3588, or PLATEAU 2-8822.

Sunday, Oct. 22, Canon Southcott will preach at Emmanuel Church at 9:15 and 11 a.m. services.

He has conducted many conferences, retreats, and preaching missions in the United States and Canada, as well as in Great Britain. He is the author of two books, "The Parish Comes Alive," and "Receive This Child."

Gottwald, auxiliary bishop of St. Louis and administrator of St. Louis Cathedral.

3 CENTS OF EACH CHURCH DOLLAR GOES ABROAD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (UPI)—Statistics compiled by the Yearbook of American Churches show that the average United States Protestant congregation uses 82 cents of every dollar it takes in for its own expenses.

The remaining 18 cents is parceled out among a variety of "benevolences." The vast majority of this goes into home missions or other national programs of the parent denominations.

Only about 3 cents of the contributor's dollar goes outside of the United States to help the struggling Christian churches of Africa, Asia and Latin America.

Comparable figures are not available for Roman Catholic churches, but Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, director of the Catholic Mission Secretariat for the United States, said recently American Catholics have not done as well as Protestants in supporting missions.

A liberal estimate of Catholic giving, added to the published Protestant figures, yields a grand total of about $250,000,000 a year contributed by all of the churches.

Colorado Defense Sets Up Fight at Fairmount

Detroit QB Passes for 196 Yards

MIAMI, Oct. 14 (AP)—Colorado used a tough, alert defense and Detroit a brilliant quarterback as the keys for their victories last night—each preserving an unbeaten season—as the college football season headed into a Big Ten-dominated weekend.

Colorado, shooting for the Big Eight championship and a post season trip to the Orange Bowl, showed the bowl committee a determined defense that pounced on a fourth-quarter fumble to set up the winning field goal in a 9-7 victory over injury-weakened Miami.

Junior quarterback Jerry Gross passed for 196 yards—including scoring strikes of 43 and 57 yards—in leading Detroit to a 20-3 conquest of Boston College.

Features of the Saturday slate include three Big Ten games, topped by the Michigan-Michigan State clash at Ann Arbor, Mich. A crowd of about 101,000, plus a national television audience, is expected to watch the struggle between the fifth-ranked Michigan and sixth-ranked State (On Channel 2 at 1:15).

Other key contests in the conference include second-ranked Iowa (2-0) opening conference play against winless Indiana (0-2) and seventh-ranked Ohio State (1-0-1) in its league opener against Illinois (0-2).

Colorado halted a 78-yard Miami drive one foot from its goal in the first period, then turned around and launched a 99-yard march of its own for a 6-0 half-time lead. Miami was on the Colorado five when the half ended.

The Buffaloes went up 9-0, in the last quarter when big Jerry Hillebrand pounced on a Miami fumble that paved the way for his 37-yard field goal. The three points proved decisive as Miami drove 62 yards to score with four minutes left. John Bennett's 25-yard pass to Bill Miller scored the touchdown.

In Detroit, the gritty, 5-foot-9 Gross was the big show. He entered the game fourth in the nation in individual total offense, and boosted his total to 611 yards passing and 96 running in three games.

Long Pass Plays. He connected on a 43-yard pass play to Larry Vargo and another play of 57 yards to Steve Stonebreaker for touchdowns, and set up the other with a 19-yard toss.

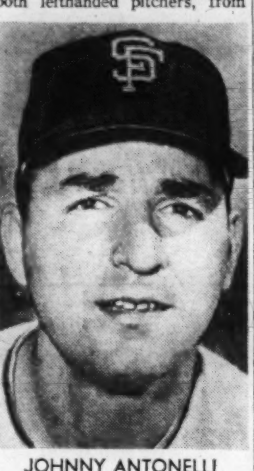

Boston College, which lost its third straight, was held to a field goal and has yet to get a touchdown this season.

Top games outside the Big Ten today include Mississippi, No. 1 in the latest Associated Press poll, seeking to extend its unbeaten string to 19 games against Houston.

Alabama (3-0), ranked third, goes against North Carolina State (1-2), while coach Darrell Royal of fourth-ranked Texas the Milwaukee Braves... The Braves, meanwhile, purchased the contracts of pitchers DICK SMITH and DENNIS RIBANT from Austin of the Texas League and that of infielder MICKEY SINERUD from Yakima of the Northwest League.

Waivers were asked by the Boston Red Sox on pitcher TOM BREWER and catcher JOE GINSBERG in order to release the veterans unconditionally and protect youngsters in their farm system.

HARRY CHITI, a former major league catcher with the Chicago Cubs and Kansas City Athletics, was among six players promoted to the Baltimore Orioles from their Rochester affiliate in the International League.

Others were pitchers JOHN MILLER, DAVE MCNALLY, DAROLD KNOWLES and HOWIE STETHERS and catcher ANDY ATCHERBAREN.

The Minnesota Twins purchased WILLIE (DEACON) JONES from Wilson, N.C., where he won 16 games and had a 2.31 earned-run average in the Class B Carolina League.

Outfielder WALTER BOND and pitcher WYNN HAWKINS of the Cleveland Indians have been recalled to active military service and will miss the 1962 baseball season.

Johnson won the N.B.A. version of the title Feb. 7, when he stopped St. Louis's JESSE BOWDRY.

... HANK WHITNEY also moved to L.A. in the deal.

figures to take his fourth straight decision over winless Oklahoma, where Royal starred for Sooner coach Bud Wilkinson.

Bills and Bears Meet Indiana in Weekend Soccer

Indiana University's soccer team is in St. Louis for games with St. Louis U. this afternoon and with Washington U. tomorrow. Indiana is a member of the Midwestern Collegiate Soccer Conference but is not in the western division with the two St. Louis schools.

ILLINOIS WOMAN HELD IN $57,000 EMBEZZLEMENT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Smith of Riverton has been charged with embezzling $57,000 from the Horace Mann Insurance Co. of Springfield where she worked as assistant cashier for the last two years.

State's Attorney Raymond Terrell said last night that the alleged loss might reach $100,000.

Mrs. Smith was placed under arrest in St. John's Hospital, Springfield, last night. She reported there Thursday night for treatment as a heart patient.

Terrell said Mrs. Smith issued checks to fictitious persons or actual policyholders and covered the original copy so the payee's name appeared only on the carbon copies. Then, he added, Mrs. Smith typed her own name on the original checks and cashed them.

When the canceled checks reached her desk she could remove those bearing her name, the prosecutor said.

The insurance company primarily insures school teachers and has offices in about 25 states. About 300 persons are employed in the office in Springfield.

Terrell said the $57,000 allegedly was taken since June 1 this year.

The prosecutor said Mrs. Smith, 40 years old, lives with her husband, Coleman, a laborer at the Allis-Chalmers plant in Springfield, in a luxurious home in Riverton, a town of about 1500 persons about seven miles from Springfield.

BIZERTE INQUIRY GROUP CHARGES FRENCH BRUTALITY

GENEVA, Oct. 14 (AP)—The International Commission of Jurists issued a report today citing what it called brutal acts by French paratroopers in the fighting in Bizerte, Tunisia, last July. The commission said its three-man investigation team found evidence that the French killed more than 200 unarmed Tunisian prisoners.

It said it had evidence of "deliberate mutilations of bodies caused by bayonets or knives . . . before or after death. We think it right to add that we have no evidence directly implicating the sailors or troops ordinarily stationed in Bizerte, but only the parachute troops brought in on and after the nineteenth of July."

Fighting broke out that day when the French moved to break a blockade of the base ordered by the Tunisian government in an effort to force French withdrawal.

INJUNCTION HALTS SWITCH OF TAX-STAMPING METERS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 14 (UPI)—A temporary injunction has been issued to prevent a switch to a different cigarette tax meter ordered by the Illinois Revenue Department. The injunction was issued yesterday by circuit judge Creel Douglass on petition of 26 cigarette dealers.

The Department ordered the change two months ago. Director Theodore J. Isaacs said the department wished to change from a meter which imprints the tax insignia on cigarette packs, to one that fuses a stamp on a package.

The petitioners argued that the present method is efficient and that changing would cost them undue expense. The suit said 76 firms in Illinois use the imprinting machines. Isaacs said the department could tighten enforcement of the tax by use of the fusion machine.

STORE ROBBED OF $293, $3000 IN MERCHANDISE

Loot consisting of $293 in cash and an estimated $3000 worth of cameras and other merchandise was taken in a burglary early Wednesday at Engelhardt's West Camera Store, 8905 St. Charles Lane, St. John, police reported yesterday.

Entry was gained by forcing the front door. Felix McCarty, the proprietor, said the theft occurred some time between 1 and 9 a.m. The loot included still and motion picture cameras and projectors, radios, lenses, binoculars, light meters, a pistol, jewelry and a tape recorder.

St. John police said the crime was similar to the burglary of a camera shop in Overland last month.

FOUR ARE INJURED IN FIRE IN NEW ORLEANS HOTEL

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14 (UPI)—Fire roared through a French quarter walk-up hotel last night and four persons were injured.

There were no known fatalities in the blaze, but firemen began a thorough search of the ruins of the Silver Dollar Hotel at dawn. Earlier reports had listed two dead.

The fire apparently started in the hotel, and during the three hours firemen battled it, flames spread to adjacent buildings housing a bank and an antique shop.

DISCOVERER 32 PUT INTO ORBIT BY THOR ROCKET

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Oct. 14 (UPI)—Discoverer No. 32 was put into orbit over the poles of the earth yesterday. Scientists hope to retrieve its capsule within four days.

The Thor rocket that put Discoverer No. 32 in orbit was the 100th that had been fired successfully. So far, the Thor has fired 39 United States satellites into orbit, including 17 this year.

Of the 32 Discoverers launched so far, 22 have gone into orbit. Of those, 19 carried 300-pound gold-plated recovery capsules, including the one aboard yesterday. Eight capsules have been recovered.

URUNDI'S PREMIER IS SHOT TO DEATH

USUMBURA, Ruanda-Urundi, Oct. 14 (AP)—Prince Louis Rwagasore, premier of Urundi, was assassinated last night when dining with members of his cabinet on a restaurant terrace.

Police said the assailant fired a single shot from bushes surrounding the restaurant at Tanganyika lake and then fled in an automobile.

Prince Rwagasore was the son of Mwambutsa, the King of Urundi.

The prince, who was about 32 years old, had a meeting with his cabinet late yesterday and then adjourned to the restaurant. He was sitting at the head of a table surrounded by friends and members of his cabinet when a shot rang out from about 60 feet away. The prince was hit in the throat and died at once, police said.

The prince's father, who had come to Usumbura in preparation for a visit to Belgium, was at another nearby cafe when informed of his son's death. The visit to Belgium was canceled.

Urundi is the southern half of the twin U.N. trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi in central Africa that is administered by Belgium. The territory is scheduled to get its independence next year.

The territory has been the scene of warfare between the giant tribe of Watutsi, who ruled the area for many years, and the far more numerous Bahutus, who formerly were their slaves.

Urundi has remained a sultanate under King Mwambutsa. Native officials of Ruanda assembled last January, declared Mwami (King) Kigeri V deposed and proclaimed a republic. The Watutsis were excluded.

PLANT TO CLOSE SIX DAYS

The American Steel Foundries plant at 1700 Walnut street, Granite City, will be shut down for six working days beginning Monday, it was announced today. About 600 men are employed. A. P. Steinhauer, plant manager, said the closing was caused by a lack of orders. The company manufactures specialty castings for railroads.

The men will return to work Oct. 24, Steinhauer said. The plant was closed earlier this month for one week.

RUSSIA STRIKES BACK AT DUTCH, EXPELS ENVOY

THE HAGUE, Oct. 14 (UPI)—The Netherlands officially expelled Soviet Ambassador Panteleimon Ponomarenko yesterday for his part in an airport brawl with Dutch police.

Russia retaliated by ousting the Dutch ambassador to Moscow, Henry Helb.

The Dutch action declaring Ponomarenko persona non grata came as two other Soviet embassy employees, second secretary A. D. Popov and commercial attaché S. W. Chibaev, were leaving for Moscow after being expelled in a crisis growing out of the defection of Russian scientist Alexei Golub.

Ponomarenko did not wait to be sent home. He left Holland yesterday morning, saying he was going to the twenty-second Communist party congress in Moscow and would return "in a couple of weeks."

Moscow denounced the Dutch action and said it "does not deem" it possible for Ambassador Helb to remain in Moscow.

There was no indication when new ambassadors would be named, but diplomatic sources said Soviet-Dutch relations appeared to be in no jeopardy.

The diplomatic crisis began when Golub, a chemist, asked for political asylum when touring Holland. His wife decided to return to Russia and went to the Soviet embassy.

As she was about to leave the country, Dutch police asked to talk with her in an airport office to make sure she was leaving of her own free will. Ponomarenko objected and led a flying wedge of embassy officials into the office. A fight followed; Popov was thrown out of the office and Ponomarenko was punched on the nose by a Dutch policeman.

Mrs. Golub was pushed and pulled into a Soviet airliner where she sat for seven hours before telling Dutch officials she wanted to return to Moscow. She flew back with other tourists while her husband stayed behind. Golub was given asylum officially yesterday.

Dutch newspapers said today that Ponomarenko was a member of the Soviet Union's old guard, a Stalinist who was demoted when Premier Khrushchev rose to power. One paper said he was a "man with a beautiful political future behind him."

WOMAN REPORTS ASSAULT BY MAN ON PARKING LOT

A woman reported she was raped early today by a man who threw a rope around her neck and dragged her into the parking lot of a market at Warren and Thirteenth streets.

The woman, who is married, said she fainted and was unable to describe the assailant. She was treated at City Hospital.

SCARBEEK'S STATEMENTS ADMISSIBLE, JUDGE RULES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—United States District Judge Leonard Walsh ruled today that statements which Irvin C. Scarbeck made to investigators can be admitted as evidence in his trial on charges of betraying United States secrets to Polish Red agents.

The statements were obtained from the former diplomat by a State Department security agent June 5 in Frankfurt, Germany, and in Washington later by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents. They are the core of the Government's case.

Scarbeck's attorney contended they were given only under pressure, and should not be used in the trial. After a lengthy hearing on the admissibility of the statements, the judge called an unusual Saturday session to announce the ruling, call back the jury, and proceed with the trial.

UNLICENSED WATCHMAN GETS SUMMONS FOR FIRING PISTOL

Charles Swehla, a watchman at Hadley Technical High School, was given a police court summons last night for discharging a firearm in the city after he reported to police that he fired his pistol at two prowlers.

Swehla said he heard a noise in the school machine shop on the first floor. Investigating, he saw two men climbing out a window. The watchman ran out of the building to Channing avenue, where he spotted the pair running north in Channing. He pursued them a short distance on foot, and when they ran west in School street he fired a shot at them, he said. Police said Swehla was given the court summons because he was not a licensed watchman. Apparently the intruders did not take anything from the school.

Desegregation

mans, Hungarians, Italians and other Europeans entered the country and over the years were absorbed into the population," Kottmeyer said.

"It is more critical now because the influx is from the South and this is hitting all the Northern cities."

"If the public school systems of the country do not meet this challenge, it will mean the downfall of Western civilization and all that we stand for."

Successful Program. Another panel speaker, Samuel Shepard Jr., director of elementary education for the Bancker group of St. Louis public schools, described the successful program of raising educational levels which he is directing in the Bancker group, composed almost entirely of Negro pupils.

Chiefly responsible for success of the program has been a change in attitude of parents, teachers and principals, Shepard said.

"Drive, determination and ambition are as important as native ability itself," he added.

Also on the panel were the Rev. Trafford P. Maher S.J., director of the St. Louis University department of education, and Andy J. Brown Jr., engineer and president of the Citizens Association for the Public Schools.

Father Maher told about the integration of Catholic schools here which took place in 1947 by order of Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter.

St. Louis University, he said, has been integrated without loss of students or prestige and with no lowering of academic standards.

Other Race Problems.

Brown agreed with Kottmeyer that there is no real desegregation in St. Louis public schools and said the school situation is only one part of the over-all race problem in the city. Others include zoning and rooming house ordinance enforcement, "gentlemen's agreements" among real estate operators on occupancy, political gerrymandering and crime and delinquency, he said.

Missouri Attorney General Thomas F. Eagleton, addressing the editorial writers at a dinner at Grant's Farm last night, attacked wire-tapping in law-enforcement and said the deprivation of privacy in telephone communication would be restriction of a basic freedom.

Charting Viet Nam Trip

GEN. MAXWELL D. TAYLOR (right) and WALT W. ROSTOW, White House special assistant on security affairs, checking map in Washington yesterday as they prepared to leave for South Viet Nam tomorrow to evaluate the military and political situation in the Southeast Asian nation.

KENNEDY RULES OUT U.S. TROOPS FOR S. VIET NAM

The New York Herald Tribune Post Dispatch Special Dispatch

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—President Kennedy has decided, for the time being at least, that it would be unwise to send American combat troops to South Viet Nam.

Still up in the air, however, is the question of sending American fighting men to Bangkok, Thailand, as part of a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization standing army.

These forces, if ordered into Viet Nam, would be drawn from Army and Marine units stationed on Okinawa and in Hawaii. It will be two or three weeks before a final decision can be made—that is, after Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor reports to Mr. Kennedy on his mission to Saigon.

Gen. Taylor, the President's top military adviser, will fly to the South Viet Namese capital tomorrow with 11 aides, including Walt W. Rostow, special presidential adviser on national security affairs. The others are officials of the State Department and Pentagon.

An Administration official said Mr. Kennedy tentatively rejected sending American troops to South Viet Nam because:

1. President Ngo Dinh Diem objected on grounds that his 170,000-man army was more than holding its own against Red guerrillas, and he feared that direct American intervention might provoke Red China into sending troops, too.

2. Regular army units are not the answer. The way to fight guerrillas is with small "special forces," as skilled as the enemy in stealth and ambush.

3. The extent of the Communist threat is not yet thoroughly assessed.

On this last point, officials said one purpose of the Taylor mission will be to determine the size and scope of the Viet Cong forces operating in South Viet Nam. Reports from the South Viet Namese government are that these guerrillas have increased in strength from about 15,000 to perhaps as many as 30,000.

Administration officials doubt this. In the past, such reports from the Diem regime have not been trustworthy. The best estimate here—pending Gen. Taylor's survey—is that there probably are no more than 15,000 guerrillas, but that the number fluctuates as adherents are gained or lost and as unwilling non-combatants, such as laborers, are pressed into service.

President Kennedy discussed the Southeast Asian situation Friday with the National Security Council at the White House.

The North Viet Namese high command protested today to the International Control Commission against the forthcoming visit of Taylor, the Communist New China News Agency reported.

Quoting the (north) Viet Nam news agency, the report said the protest "urged the international commission to take measures in good time to prevent Taylor's arrival in South Viet Nam."

The report, monitored in Tokyo, said "the trip would constitute a most serious violation of the Geneva agreements."

PARIS, Oct. 14 (AP)—The French Foreign Ministry said today no agreement had been reached among the Big Four Western powers for a meeting of senior diplomats next week to discuss the Berlin situation.

A spokesman said talk of such a meeting was premature. News dispatches from London, Washington and Bonn have reported that the meeting was definitely scheduled to be held in London.

When asked if France was making any preparations to attend such a meeting, the spokesman said, "There can be no preparations until a date has been set for a meeting. No date has been set."

A Washington dispatch had reported that Jean Lolois, director of European affairs in the Foreign Ministry, would represent France.

France has been cool to the idea of seeking talks with Soviet officials on Berlin, and French officials have refrained from comment on the round of discussions held by United States Secretary of State Dean Rusk with Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Allied Parley

an annex to his projected peace treaty with East Germany.

What the guarantees themselves would consist of is still unclear. And, as Russia's demands now stand, the guarantees would be applied only on condition the Western powers agree to basic changes in Berlin's status.

Diplomats say that on Berlin itself there is Allied agreement: The United States, Britain and France intend to keep their troops in West Berlin because they regard the garrison there as affording the only reliable protection for the city against threats and pressures from Communist East Germany.

Rusk is reported to have made allied firmness on this point clear to Gromyko. He emphasized also the West's determination to keep open the Berlin supply line and to see to it that goods and people move freely between West Berlin and West Germany.

Rusk was limited in what he could tell Gromyko, however, by the limited nature of Allied agreements to date. In effect he was able to state authoritatively what the West would not accept in the way of changes, but he was not able to give any indication of positive Western proposals for a Berlin settlement.

Khrushchev has called for an East-West agreement to ban nuclear arms for German military forces. East or West, he has demanded acceptance of the Oder-Neisse line as the boundary between East Germany and Poland. He has asked for Western recognition of the East German Communist government, which the Western powers flatly oppose.

No Talk of Polish Plan. The State Department denied yesterday that Secretary Rusk made any commitment for the United States to consider a Polish plan for a demilitarized zone in central Europe.

In fact, press officer Lincoln White said, Rusk did not talk about the proposal at all when he met Tuesday with Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki. There had been a published report that Rusk told Rapacki the plan would be studied.

"The fact is that there was only the briefest reference to the plan by the Polish Foreign Minister and the Secretary made no comment on it," White said, adding, "A lot of journalists have had luck."

President Kennedy made a similar remark at his press conference Wednesday, commenting on various reports about talks with the Soviets on the German problem.

The plan called for an arm weapon-free zone and reduction of conventional forces in central Europe.

Rapacki, author of the plan and head of Poland's U.N. delegation, discussed the general problem of Germany and Berlin with Rusk. In speaking about this broad problem he mentioned passing his plan in a way that did not call for an answer, officials said. Rusk, accordingly, did not comment on it.

The West has turned down the plan on the ground that it was a dangerous threat to Western military security in the area. Officials said the United States position is unchanged and plans for disengagement in central Europe are not negotiable.

France Says Talk of London Meeting Is Premature. PARIS, Oct. 14 (AP)—The French Foreign Ministry said today no agreement had been reached among the Big Four Western powers for a meeting of senior diplomats next week to discuss the Berlin situation.

A spokesman said talk of such a meeting was premature. News dispatches from London, Washington and Bonn have reported that the meeting was definitely scheduled to be held in London.

When asked if France was making any preparations to attend such a meeting, the spokesman said, "There can be no preparations until a date has been set for a meeting. No date has been set."

A Washington dispatch had reported that Jean Lolois, director of European affairs in the Foreign Ministry, would represent France.

France has been cool to the idea of seeking talks with Soviet officials on Berlin, and French officials have refrained from comment on the round of discussions held by United States Secretary of State Dean Rusk with Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

John D. Farrington Dies. CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (AP)—John D. Farrington, chairman of the board of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, died yesterday. He was 70 years old.

ALL MENARD PRISONERS FILE PAST CHAPLAIN'S BIER

CHESTER, Ill., Oct. 14 (AP)—All inmates at Menard State Prison were permitted today to file by the body of their chaplain, considered by many to be the only friend they had.

Warden Ross Randolph said he believes it was the first time such a thing had been done in Illinois and possibly in the nation.

The decision was made, the warden said, because the prisoners, including some of the most hardened, were so shaken by the death Wednesday of the Rev. Henry F. Gerecke.

The 68-year-old Lutheran minister was chaplain at the Nuremberg war crimes trials after World War II. Funeral services were to be held later today at Chester church.

Missile Might on Display

Star in the Backfield

A visitor at the boys' Club of St. Louis, a United Fund agency at 2524 South Eleventh street, actor John Gavin displays talent on the gridiron matching that he shows on the screen. Gavin, in St. Louis for a film opening, was pressed into service as a full-back in a game of touch football and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. With Gavin (from left) are: Gary Pickett, Jeff Vancil and Bobby Miller.

End of a Revolt

Lt. Enrique Escobar, leader of the "lieutenants' revolt" in Colombia, kicking out at soldiers (top) who captured him Wednesday. At bottom, a fellow officer shoots Escobar as he attempted to escape. Escobar was the only fatality in the short-lived revolt involving two lieutenants and 135 recruits.

Reserve Call In Reverse

There have been many scenes recently of wives bidding goodbye to husbands called to active duty as Army reservists but the scene is reversed in Madison, Wis., as John Fischer watches his wife try on the hat she will wear as a nurse in the 395th Evacuation Hospital Unit. When Lt. Fischer reports Monday at Fort Bliss, Tex., for a year's active duty, her husband will remain at home.

Youngsters With a Hot Idea

The youngest persons ever to apply for a United States patent, Teresa Dolores Thomason (left), 12 years old, and her sister, Mary Ellen, 11, peer from their invention, a solar heated tepee. The tepee has clear plastic on one side to let in sunlight. The inside lining is of blackened material to absorb the sun's rays and retain heat. Their father, Harry E. Thomason, is a patent adviser for the Army Signal Corps and has built two solar heated homes.

Food, Water for Bomb Shelters

CIVIL DEFENSE officials state that each fallout shelter should be provided with food and water. The quantity should be sufficient to last at least two weeks.

It is urged that a shelter should have seven gallons of water for each person who may be lodged inside. This would amount to two quarts per person per day for two weeks.

The necessary food supply will differ with the age, weight and appetite of each person concerned. It would be well to provide food with at least 2000 calories per person per day, also a supply of vitamin tablets.

Q. What foods should be selected?

A. Insofar as there are public shelters, the civil defense officials must plan to provide food in advance. Even so, I would like to have a few chocolate bars in my pocket if I had to rush into a public shelter.

The food question will apply to millions of families that will have, or should have, fallout shelters in the basements of their homes, or elsewhere. In most cases, I believe that canned foods will be stored in these shelters—let us say cans of peas, beans, mixed vegetables, soup, salmon, sardines and evaporated milk. Also, perhaps, there will be jars of powdered milk, coffee, cocoa and the like, along with dehydrated soup.

Q. Will the food be wasted if a nuclear war is delayed or avoided?

A. If the right plan is followed, there need be little, if any, waste. Food in the reserve should be eaten while it is still in good condition, but it should be replaced at once.
